

RHODEO

APOLOGY

The new Rhodeo Editorial staff would like to issue a public apology to Mr M.Oelschig, Kimberley Hall Warden and Pringle House Warden, following a defamatory article which appeared in the October 1982 editon of Rhodeo.

The article entitled "Res Reform - When?" constituted defamation by innuendo and stated that Mr Oelschig is "notorious for handing out unreasonable and unnegotiable fines at the drop of a hat". Following subsequent investigation it appears that this allegation is unfounded. The article also questions what Mr Oelschig was doing looking through the bedroom window of a Pringle student This also appears to have been untrue.

On investigation it was found that the defamatory paragraphs had been subbed out of the original copy but was inadvertently typed out by the copy typist and printed.

The Rhodeo Editorial staff would therefore like to apologize to Mr Oelschig for any inconvenience or embarassment caused. In future editions we will endeavor to prevent a recurrence of this kind of error.
